Jeff Spiegel

Certified Public Accountant

Jeff Spiegel's distinguished career as a Certified Public Accountant has included positions with Peat Marwick and Deloitte & Touche, two of the largest accounting firms in the world. He went on to establish his own firm in 1990 to better meet the needs of his clients.

Jeff's experience covers the full range of tax, accounting, audit, and consulting services. His professional style is to maintain a high-level of visibility and interaction with his clients throughout the year to stay abreast of developments within their companies that affect their financial picture.

Throughout his career, Jeff has specialized in providing services for individuals and small businesses in a wide variety of industries including financial services, real estate, investment partnerships, professional service firms and e-commerce. Jeff has published articles on various tax topics and business practices and is a frequent speaker on various tax, accounting, and business topics.

He is actively involved in professional organizations related to specific industries such as the Mortgage Bankers Association, California Mortgage Bankers Association, and the California Mortgage Association.

Jeff is a member of the American Institute of CPAs and the California Society of CPAs. He received his BS degree from the University of Arizona and is a Certified Public Accountant in the states of California, Colorado, Connecticut, Oregon, Nevada, Texas, Washington, and Washington DC. In his spare time, Jeff likes to travel and exercise. He loves sporting events and is an avid Golden State Warrior fan – you'll find him at almost every game. He also likes to hike and spend time with his colleagues and friends.
