

SARAH LIBENGGOOD

Candidate for National Liaison

ABOUT ME

Beyond her direct client services, Sarah is deeply invested in serving both her community and the real estate industry. Her dedication is exemplified by her significant roles within the Women's Council of Realtors (WCR). In 2024, she held the esteemed position of Idaho State Liaison, further demonstrating her leadership and commitment to the organization. Her previous roles as the 2022 Idaho State President and the 2020 Boise Metro President, 2019 Boise Metro President Elect underscore her consistent engagement and influence within the WCR. Additionally, Sarah actively contributes to the Boise Regional REALTORS® Political Action Committee (RPAC), advocating for policies that support the real estate industry and homeowners.

Sarah Libengood stands as a seasoned Realtor® with a distinguished 16-year track record of dedicated service within the dynamic residential real estate landscape of the Treasure Valley. Her profound understanding of property transactions and commitment to client satisfaction have established her as a trusted professional in the local market.

At the helm of her team, The Good Life Group, Sarah fosters a collaborative environment where over 50 years of collective residential real estate expertise converges. This wealth of experience allows the team to navigate the complexities of the market with finesse, providing clients with insightful guidance and seamless transactions.

Recognized for her specialized knowledge, Sarah holds the certification of Divorce Real Estate Expert. In this capacity, she adeptly manages the sensitive and intricate process of selling real property within the context of Family Law Cases, offering a compassionate and knowledgeable approach during challenging times.

Sarah's commitment to continuous professional development is evident in her impressive array of designations. She holds the Seniors Real Estate Specialist (SRES®) designation, demonstrating her expertise in addressing the unique needs of senior clients. As a Seller Representative Specialist (SRS®), she possesses advanced skills in effectively representing sellers and achieving optimal outcomes. Her certification as a Certified Probate Real Estate Specialist (CPRES) underscores her proficiency in handling real estate matters related to estate administration. Additionally, her attainment of the Performance Management Network (PMN) designation signifies her commitment to leadership development and business acumen within the real estate profession.